2012 Presidential election: 255 advance polling stations abroad

Finnish citizens eligible to vote in the 2012 presidential election can cast their votes January 11-14 and, in a potential second round, January 25-28. There are 20 advance polling stations in the United States.

Advance polling stations are open in 91 countries at Finnish diplomatic missions or other authorized locations. The number of advance polling stations is higher than in previous elections.

Instructions to voters

In the presidential elections, each Finnish citizen who is 18 years old on or before 22 January 2012 will be entitled to vote.

Please make sure that your personal data in the Finnish Population Register Office (www.maistraatti.fi) is up-to-date.

If you have received polling cards by mail from the Register Office please take them with you to the polling station. The polling card is not mandatory, but will facilitate the voting process.

You must provide proof of your identity when voting. The identity card must have a photo on it.

More information on the election is available at vaalit.fi. Vaalit.fi can also be found on Facebook.
